Clear and convenient communication

Operate efficiently and effectively with our communication tools and services.

Whether you're looking to improve your internet connection, lower the cost of long-distance communication or enhance your remote working processes, Fusion provides tailored solutions to suit your connectivity requirements.

Fusion VoIP – your complete phone solution

Fusion VoIP is a cloud-based phone system that's easy to use and integrate. It can carry out all classic phone functions but with greater flexibility and scalability.

The accessibility of this system means that Fusion VoIP can be operated through desktop phones, headsets, web phones or Microsoft Teams, so your staff can continue to use devices and software that they're familiar with. As an internet-based platform, installation is also quick and easy and with the option to retain your existing numbers, transferring to the new system is just as simple.

Choose from our range of 6 VoIP-enabled handsets and headsets. Whether you're looking for ease of functionality, flexibility or automation, there are plenty of devices available to suit your team's requirements.

Here are some of our devices:

FTS44

Elevate office communication with the FTS44. This feature-rich and wireless-ready handset boasts a vibrant colour screen, soft-touch keys for effortless dialling, and a digital busy lamp field. Plus, receive video calls from door entry systems or view CCTV footage directly on the handset.

FTS60

This premium enterprise phone has been designed for users who need immediate access to all their important information. The 7" touch screen makes it easy to carry out functions along with HD audio, Wi-Fi connectivity, video-calls, intercom, 3-way conference, auto-answering and more.

FTS50

The FTS50 handset empowers business leaders. Manage calls effortlessly with a large colour screen, HD voice, and dedicated lines. 42 customisable keys and an optional Wi-Fi dongle make it perfect for reception or supervisors. An enhanced LCD also displays wallboard info and receives video calls.

FTS-HB1

This Bluetooth headset comes with a charging base that offers up to 14 hours of calls with a 2-hour charge time. With a range of 10m, it's perfect for users who want more flexibility during calls and, like all our headsets, it comes with a 1-year warranty.

Alongside our devices, Fusion VoIP raises the quality of your communication with a wide range of functions including:

The value of partnering with an MSP like Fusion

SMBs are increasingly turning to Managed Service Providers like Fusion, to help maintain a competitive edge and benefit from the same high level of resources enjoyed by larger companies, despite working with smaller IT budgets. Here's why:

A trusted managed IT service provider can guarantee your business consistent and uninterrupted IT services with proactive monitoring and cybersecurity support via a Security Operation Centre (SOC).

They can offer clear connection and fast internet services, enabling faster processing of customer requests and more professional delivery of services.

MSPs possess specialised knowledge and insight into industry trends, best practices and emerging technologies, which SMBs may lack. Armed with this knowledge and technology, SMBs can then provide a more extensive and effective service to their customers.

Fusion Technology Solutions is your complete IT solution provider, with a range of IT services, customised to suit the needs of your business. From assessment to design, implementation to maintenance, problem solving to continuous ongoing helpdesk support, as well as consultancy services, we will meet and exceed your IT requirements.

With a knowledgeable, professional team to help you when you need it, giving you fast, efficient IT support and the latest solutions that will enhance your business work flows, you can rest easy knowing we're monitoring and caring for your IT systems.
